Reshuffle Ousts Five In Havana

Castro to Study Note From U. S.

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro replaced five cabinet ministers early today in the first government shakeup of his four months in office.

These changes were announced after a cabinet meeting which as usual lasted long after midnight: Raul Roa, ambassador to the Organization of American States (OAS), replacing Roberto Agramonte as foreign minister.

Other Changes

Pedro Mirer, replacing Umberto Sori Marin as minister of agriculture.

Miss Raquel Perez, minister of public welfare, replacing Miss Elena Mederos.

Serafin Ruiz, replacing Julio Martinez Paez as minister of public health.

Jose Naranjo, minister of interior, in place of Orlando Rodriguez.

Castro took an offhand attitude toward a U. S. government note expressing concern over his plans to expropriate American-owned sugar lands in Cuba.

The Prime Minister, asked for comment, replied:

"I've had no time to study the note but I hope to have time tomorrow. However, from what I know of the American viewpoint is their opinion and the majority of Cuban people support agrarian reform."

Concern Is Expressed

The U. S. note expressed concern that Americans might not be adequately compensated for property taken from them under the land redistribution program.

Castro said that the cabinet changes were "due to the periodic changeover that governments must make regardless of the contribution made by those who serve them."

"It is also necessary," he added, "to give other people who desire to serve the government a chance to do so."

The resolution primarily is concerned with obtaining effective legislative action on state and national levels to require approved automatic sprinkler systems in structures of high fire hazard potential, such as schools, hospitals, nursing homes, institutions, places of public assembly, factories and similar large type buildings, in basements of certain type mercantile buildings and in other structures where the life hazard potential is high.

Emphasized also in the fire-fighter's resolution is the fire-fighter's obligation to perform his duty under all conditions regardless of hazard. It is his moral obligation also to inform the public of deficient conditions and propose remedial action.

Long Fight by Brett

Involved, besides public safety, in the lack of proper fire-protection measures, is the health and often the life-span of firemen, it noted.

Chief Brett has long been a proponent of effective use of sprinkler systems as a first-line defense and precaution against destructive fires.

From a neighboring state, at the convention, came a similar warning.

Woman Still on Stand on Charge Of Taking Funds at Local Store

Cross examination of Mrs. Mary Doyle, charged with grand larceny of funds from the Mohican store where she was employed, continued in County Court today. The examination was being conducted by Assistant District Attorney John Gottelli.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Doyle was subjected to cross-examination with numerous store records being shown her for explanation of entries.

During the examination she told of being taken to the office of the district attorney last November when she was questioned by Acting Police Chief Robert Murphy, two police officers and Assistant District Attorney Gottelli in regard to shortages. She said she has been willing to cooperate and told of shortages which she said occurred at times in store funds. At the time she made a statement and signed it.

She said under cross examination that she had been in a state of hysteria during the questioning. She admitted she had "glanced" at the statement before signing it and said the statement which was offered for identification, had been dictated in the office after questioning.

The witness said she had been asked if there were any omissions or errors in the statement after she had signed it and testified there had been none. However she said she was in a "state of hysteria" when she signed it.

Mrs. Doyle was questioned at length in regard to bank de-

Conclave Will Open New Synod Estates

A conclave of laymen leaders of the churches of the Synod of New York will be held Saturday, June 13, at Warwick Estates in Orange County under the direction of the Promotion and Finance committee of the "Estates" board of managers.

The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, chairman of the Synod committee, said that all pastors in the churches of Ulster, Dutchess, Westchester, Rockland and New York and Long Island have been invited to send leaders to the Saturday convocation.

Warwick Covers 400 Acres

Warwick Estates, the newly acquired conference center of the Synod of New York will be formally opened for use that day when lay-leaders from the churches of the Synod will be entertained on the conference property by the Board of Managers.

Gerow Schoonmaker, an elder in the New Hurley Reformed Church, will address the laymen as president of the Warwick Estates managers.

This extensive Orange County property comprises over 400 acres of fields and woodlands, a record of entrance to the lake, a brook and nature trails. The two main houses include 80 bedrooms, conference and dining rooms accommodating 150 people.

In addition to purchasing the property, the Synod committee has continued the manager and staff who have for several years operated the Reformed Church at large will be immediately welcomed to use the property.

Other Board Members

In addition to the chairman,

Others Being Mentioned

Among these are former Mayor Frederick H. Stang, former District Attorney Howard C. St. John and Robert A. MacKinnon.

At present MacKinnon, who has practiced law here for five years, is the Republican member of the Ulster County Alcohol Beverage Control Board.

Rumors are flying thick and fast. One has it that MacKinnon has the active support of Former Surrogate John B. Sterley who is the Reformed Church at large will be immediately welcomed to use the property.

Curran said Thursday night, following a meeting of the village board, that the board had "declined to act" on a petition seeking a referendum date. The petition had been "tabled" when the board reportedly had acted on advice of the village attorney, Charles H. Gaffney, who had advised the board he desired time to present the matter to the village general for a ruling, Curran said.

It is the contention of Curran that under the Village Law, once a petition is submitted in proper form and with sufficient number of persons signing the petition and with sufficient assessed value represented, the board must fix a date for a referendum. This date must be not less than 10 days after presentation of the petition and not more than 40 days in advance.

Petitioners will ask for an order directing the board of trustees of the village of Rosendale, consisting of Mayor John W. Vaughn, Trustees Harold Schoonmaker and Harold Krom and Clerk Margaret George to hold a special referendum for a vote on the dissolution proposition.

The action by the two officials of the Taxpayers Association is taken as individuals and not as officials of the association, Curran said.

Inspection Delayed Is Complaint

Singer Appearance Brings on Hassle

Thursday evening's meeting of the board of supervisors came to a sudden termination. Two members of the board stood on the floor challenging each other as Chairman Charles Relyea pounded the gavel in an effort to restore order which only came when Majority Leader Jesse McHugh (R) Shawangunk moved for adjournment.

The hassell came about when Supervisor Joseph Turk (D),

Fourth ward, challenged a statement made by Supervisor James A. Rapp (R) of the First ward in regard to comment of Bernie Singer, who spoke on behalf of the Kingston Civic Association in regard to what he called "delayed" action on inspection of the county garage.

Insist He'll Talk

Efforts to quell the fray were made by Majority Leader McHugh but Rapp replied, "I have always respected your advice in the past, now I am going to have my say."

Turk had challenged a statement of Supervisor Rapp in which Rapp said in effect that the Civic Association might rather be discussing a new county building, rather than a new county garage.

Delay Is Complaint

Following a statement of Singer that the board's building committee had not met for inspection of the garage as he had suggested at the previous meeting and that apparently no action had been taken, Rapp had replied that it was true there was need for a new county garage but a new county building was more pressing.

Rapp said if there was a fire in the garage and a truck was destroyed it could be replaced, but what if a fire happened in one of the antiquated county buildings and there was a loss of life.

"Who could replace that loss of life?" Rapp asked.

The discussion between Turk and Rapp took place some time later in the meeting when Turk said he felt a citizen should be able to come before the board and talk on any subject he desired without comment from any board member. It was a citizen's right to offer any suggestion or recommendation he desired and he challenged Rapp for questioning Singer's presentation.

"I object to any citizen being told what he can talk on," shouted Turk. "They can talk on any damn subject they desire," he said.

Sees Building Important

Rapp replied he was not telling anyone what they could discuss, he was just expressing his own opinion on the importance of a new county building.

Meanwhile, Singer had been advised that the committee would be meeting soon to inspect the county garage and that the Singer would be advised of the meeting and be invited to attend.

Otherwise the meeting was peaceful with but little regular business coming up for action.

Legislature May Be Called Back Around June 30

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — New York's assemblymen and senators are expected to be summoned to a one-day special session of the Legislature around June 30 to elect an Assembly speaker.

So far, no order or date for a special session has come from Gov. Rockefeller. However, it is expected that he will issue a directive soon and that Assembly Majority Leader Joseph Carlino of Nassau County will be elected to succeed the late Oswald D. Heck of Schenectady.

Should Rockefeller issue the call next week, the legislators would have two weeks to prepare for the trip to Albany. If the governor decides that a date beyond June 30 would be better, attendance might suffer because of the vacation season.

In 1957, Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman gave a 12-day notice in calling a special session for June 10.

Legislative aides said Thursday they did not know whether the governor was required to give the lawmakers notice of a special session any specific number of days in advance.

TV to Show Gallant Action That Made Sgt. Dietz Hero

Years after Staff Sergeant Robert H. Dietz gave his life abroad in the single handed fight that brought a Congressional Medal of Honor to Kingston, the nation, as the city has done, continues honoring him as a valiant soldier of World War 2.

Herman O. Dietz, of 37 Abbey Street, his father, recently learned that a television film now being planned, will depict Sgt. Dietz's gallantry in opening way for capture of Kirchain, Germany, on March 29, 1945, and he has also been informed of the opening of Dietz Acres, a housing development at Fort Knox, Ky., as a memorial to the sergeant.

Haugan Television Films, Inc., Canoga Park, Calif., in a recent letter informed Mr. Dietz of its plans and the latter has signed a release as requested to give consent prior to the making of the film.

It will be a new venture in TV films, the company said, and will include a film "depicting the incident upon which is based the award to your son of the Congressional Medal of Honor and the circumstances relating to the action. Before undertaking this project, we feel that you should be advised, and your consent and approval be given."

Rapp Van Lines Buys Business of Van Etten-Hogan

The trucking and storage firm of VanEtten & Hogan, 150 Wall Street, which was established 72 years ago, has been sold to the John M. Rapp Van Lines, Inc., 77 Greenkill Avenue, it has been announced.

Burdette F. Clark, former head of Van Etten & Hogan, and several employees of the firm have joined Rapp, it is reported.

Long Negotiations

Negotiations for the sale have been in progress for some months.

Van Etten & Hogan was established on April 28, 1887, a year before the "big blizzard." Beginning as a one-horse trucking business, it grew into one of the largest local hauling and trucking firms in the city.

The first motor moving van in Kingston was operated by Van Etten & Hogan back in World War I days when they purchased the first motor truck to be built in Kingston by the H. R. King Company on Prince Street. The firm built only four motor trucks, one being purchased by the Barmann Brewing Company shortly after Van Etten & Hogan purchased the first truck. One was sold in Hudson and one in Poughkeepsie. Even the body of that first truck was built in Kingston.

Under Intense Fire

'Mad Bomber' Is Sought As Explosion Injures 37

BOSTON (AP) — Police today hunted a "mad bomber" in the wake of an explosion which shattered a rapid transit train station 30 feet above a busy Boston intersection Thursday.

Thirty-seven persons were injured, three seriously, in the blast which investigators said was caused by a home-made bomb planted in a public coin locker.

High police officials said the bombing apparently was the work of a lunatic, bent on destruction. A huge police detail under Capt. Joseph B. Fallon, head of the homicide squad, was assigned the job of learning his identity.

Investigators said the bomb went off with the explosive force of a 500-pound Air Force bomb of World War II.

The blast blew apart the big 58-year-old pagoda-type waiting room on the elevated station of the Metropolitan Rapid Transit Authority.

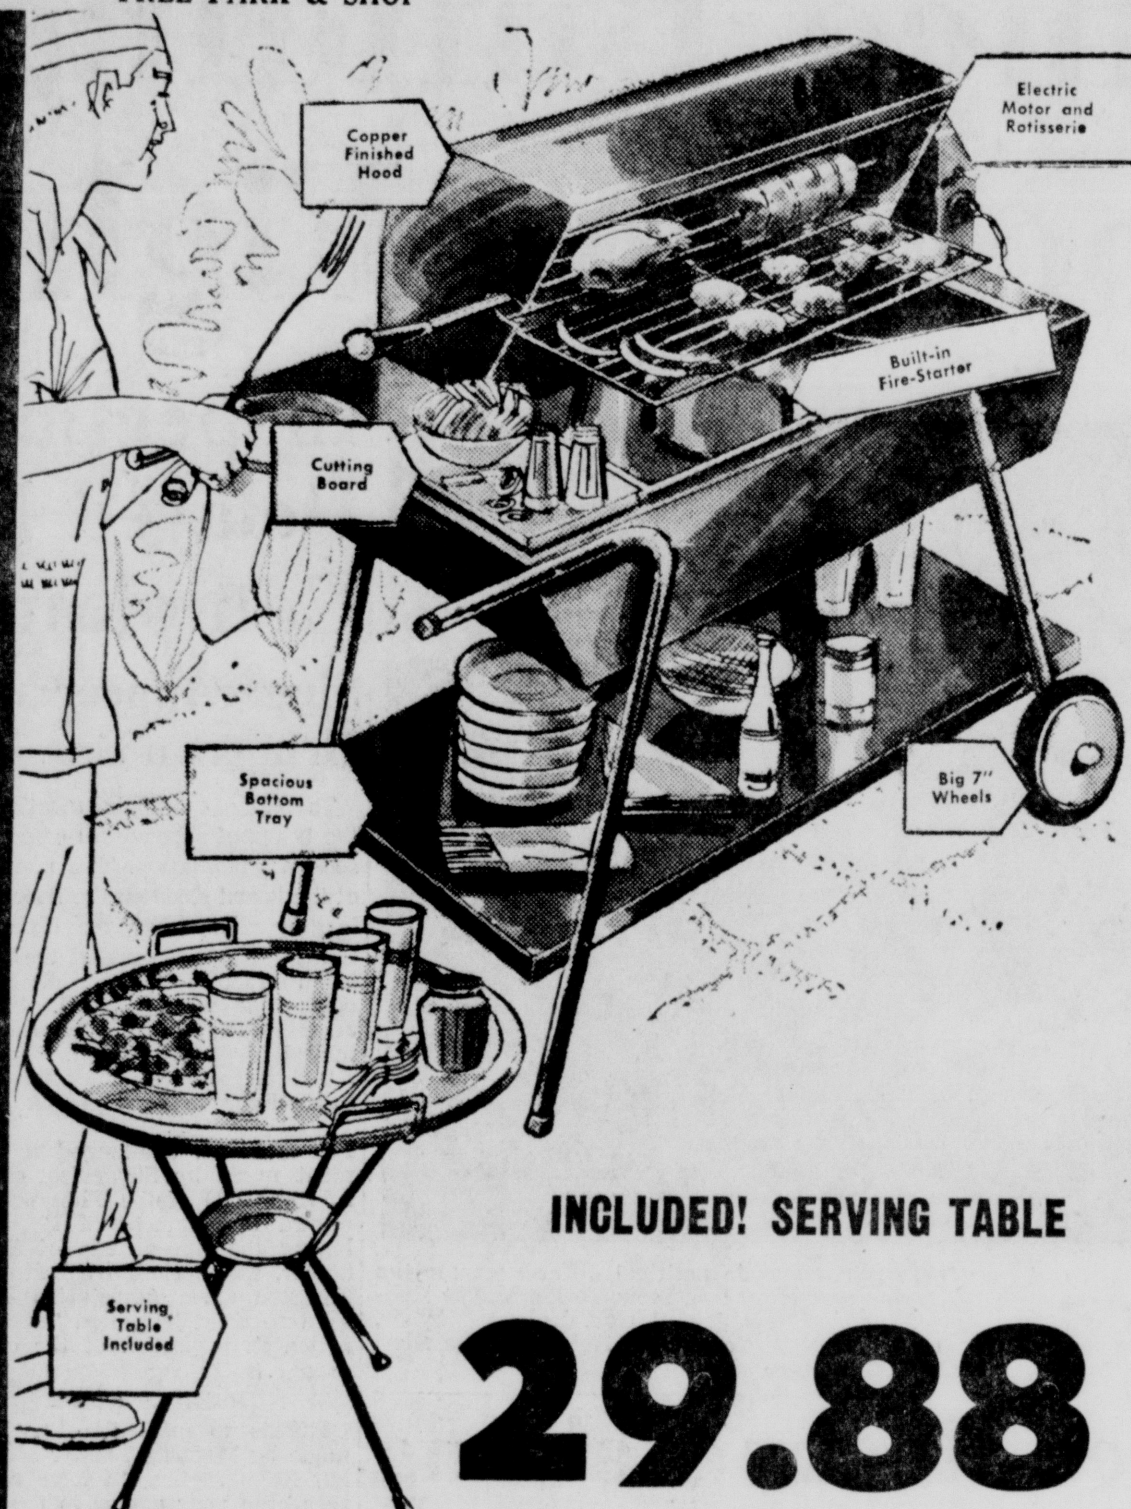

It caught several persons within the waiting room and on the outdoor station platform. Some of them were blown 30 feet to busy Canal and Causeway streets below.

Six were injured as they sat in

Obscure Origin

Origin of the word "jalopy" is obscure, but it may come from the Mexican town of Jalapa, known for its broken-down cars. It may, also, be derived from the Spanish "galapago," meaning "a tortoise," hence "a slow-moving vehicle."

The first steels containing three alloying elements, nickel, chromium and molybdenum, were introduced during World War I.

McCormick, church wardens; John J. Rensing, George J. Kornstone, John D. Basten, Isaac Graham, Albert Koechel, and William Bryant, vestrymen.

Members of the collections committee including Dr. Bushnell and Thomas Snow Jr., legal advisor to the vestry, Major H. Timmerman, William van Benschoten, architect, and Donald Schoonmaker, contractor for the Church of Christ the King also attended.

The vestry authorized four half scholarships to the junior and senior high school youth conferences of the Diocese of New York at the Wooster School, Danbury, Conn. from Aug. 30 to Sept. 4 and set up a planning committee for the men's annual chicken barbecue tentatively set for Aug. 29.

EXECUTION OF WILLS

The Yates will contest, which was referred to in Wednesday night's Freeman, recalls to mind the hard-fought battle in our local Surrogate's Court before a jury. It emphasizes again how very important it is to comply in all respects with the statute as regards the execution of wills, the avoidance of undue influence, complete competency to make a will, and the proper attestation of the instrument. In this State two witnesses are required, and they must be present when the bill is signed.

In the Yates case undue influence, improper attesting of the will, and inability of the testatrix to realize what she was doing, were the points argued by the attorneys for the contestants. At the conclusion of the trial, which consumed four days, the jury, composed of both men and women, brought in a verdict for the contestants. From this verdict the proponent appealed.

After many delays the appeal was finally argued at the April term of the Appellate Division. Judge Harry H. Flemming handled the case at the outset for the contesting nephew, Winchell G. Yates, and Connelly & Connelly represented the other contestant, Mrs. Josephine Y. Anderson. As Judge Flemming has since passed on, Vincent G. Connelly argued the appeal for both contestants. The decision of the Appellate Division, approving the jury's verdict that the will should not be admitted to probate, was unanimous.

BOYS IN THE STREET

It is one of life's more curious facts that children who live only a block or two from a playground often scorn it in favor of the street. Something about the pavement seems to give it a charm that the best playing field lacks.

The trouble is that boys engrossed in a red hot game of stickball tend to forget about cars that might make a fast turn into the block. Their confidence in that greatly maligned fellow, the average motorist, is something to behold. They go on playing blandly until the last possible moment, secure in youth's supreme assurance that life will go on forever and ever.

The why of it all is a mystery. The how of it is a potential hazard that drivers would do well to bear in mind these summer days.

A top U.S. military officer says automatic orders will not be accepted by modern Army recruits without knowing the reason why. What will become of all those tough sergeants?

ATOMIC PREPAREDNESS

The Minnesota legislature has turned down a proposal for establishment of a state atomic energy board. This failure to act is of national interest because it symbolizes a problem faced by many other states. The matter also highlights efforts to persuade the public that states should be prepared to deal with atomic energy problems as they arise.

One of the Minnesota bill's chief backers was Dr. Maurice B. Visscher, head of physiology at the University of Minnesota medical school. He has played a leading role in seeking to arouse the nation from its lethargy with regard to the potential hazards of the atomic age. Some of his comments on the Minnesota situation can be applied as easily to other areas.

The state atomic energy board was planned as an agency to advise the legislature and the governor, act as a clearing house for questions, and work in cooperation with the Atomic Energy Commission. Dr. Visscher recently had this to say about it: "It would also have promoted nuclear research in Minnesota, helped us live with the problems of nuclear products and their wastes, and investigated workmen's compensation laws in regard to radiation exposure."

These are things of importance in every state. They will be increasingly so in years to come. "The problems of nuclear energy," Dr. Visscher said, "are going to be around

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE BRAINS HAVE IT

In this period, when men tend to avert controversy lest they disclose the baseness of their thinking or the lack of logic of their views, it is good to know that at any rate there is one man who uses strong words and means them.

The controversy arose over an article about Princeton in which reference was made to Father Hugh Halton, a Dominican priest who was once stationed at Princeton to improve the souls of the undergraduates but who is now at Oxford in England where he devotes himself to the Common Law. Father Halton had been removed from Princeton after a matter of principle.

Father Halton wrote a letter to Ben Hibbs, editor of "The Saturday Evening Post," which was apparently forwarded to Harold H. Martin, contributing editor of the aforesaid magazine, who on May 25 wrote an interesting, even a brilliant, if you please, letter to Father Halton. However, on the very same date Associate Editor Bill Breisky of this magazine wrote to M. M. Fearon, a reader, that "we have heard not a word from Father Halton" which the learned Dominican should not take too seriously as in a large organization it is impossible that the right hand knows not what the left hand doeth.

Such being the state of affairs, Father Halton wrote, on May 31, further to Editor Hibbs, in which he says:

"On my honour as a gentleman (in the true sense, not merely an old boy with property and a coat of arms) and a Catholic priest, I say to you before God (fully conscious of the responsibility this implies) that I have never said, written or even remotely suggested in public or in private that three individuals . . . deserved the title of anti-Christ: Martin Luther, Margaret Sanger and Robert Goheen. (Goheen is President of Princeton.) Without malice the POST has printed an unequivocal lie. . . ."

Thus, the Halton controversy which some men thought might be solved by removing Father Halton to England continues to rage, for involved is a fundamental principle, namely, is a man to be punished for his difference of view particularly in an institution of learning where the liberal mind and demand freedom of thought and non-conformity for all except those with whom they come in contact.

And this is the nub of the conflict between the self-proclaimed intellectuals and those who shy away from their learning. The self-assured intellectual demands uniform adherence to the style of the day. If everyone is against book-burning, no one should favor book-burning. Although what one is to do with the vast accumulation of rubbish is to wear blue jeans, look like a slob and give the impression of having conquered truth by defying its existence. This movement is universal and stems from Jean Paul Sartre, whom all young people must read to prove their age.

Father Halton may have been exiled for his pains, but the self-assured intellectuals go too far when they call themselves an elite, as one for letter writer did in the Washington "Post," for it is difficult for a democracy to recognize an elite and it is impossible in truth and logic to have it both ways.

That undoubtedly was the cause of Senator Fulbright's difficulty over Ogden Reid's appointment as Ambassador to Israel. Senator Fulbright, though from Arkansas, has been up in the English tradition which relies upon a carefully trained civil service in which they can find them. In the United States, it is generally assumed that the brains of the entire nation should be available to the government and that if the President finds an intellect in a newspaper publisher and editor, he should avail himself of the role to which Reid was chosen, he actually has had more training and background than most career men. He not only comes of a diplomatic ancestry, but he con- trolled a large foreign service on the New York "Herald-Tribune" and on the Paris "Herald," both of which he managed.

The point of all this is, if you have missed it, that we need brains, intelligence, background in this country and we ought to take them wherever we find them.

Ringworm Is Misnomer for Widespread Fungus Disease

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

Mrs. H. asks for information about ringworm, how to get rid of it, and whether it has anything to do with diet. Like others, she is particularly anxious to know how to get rid of it.

This skin disorder is not related to diet. Ringworm is not caused by a worm, and its appearance on the skin is by no means always in the shape of a ring.

It is often also called athlete's foot, but is not always on the foot and occurs in many people besides athletes. Its correct name is dermatophytosis.

This disease is caused by fungi, which belong to the plant world. These fungi grow best in the damp and dark. They will last for some time on towels which are not properly dried, or on damp floors.

Hence there is more likely to be trouble with them in warm weather when more people use them in locker rooms and engage in athletics. Of course, infections are often spread at other times of the year in gymnasiums and indoor swimming pools.

The fungi do not thrive in the absence of moisture. For this reason the feet should be kept clean and dry, the socks and shoes dried and aired frequently, and towels should be completely dry and never shared.

A dusting powder consisting of 10 per cent boric acid in powdered talc to be used on the feet twice a day has also been recommended. This could be used on the groin too, especially by anyone who is more or less exposed.

Even with precautions, however, it seems unlikely that this disease will disappear.

Usually it produces some itching and scaling, the cracking or some other peculiar appearance of the skin. Occasionally the symptoms can be so severe. On the other hand the symptoms can be so mild as to pass practically unnoticed.

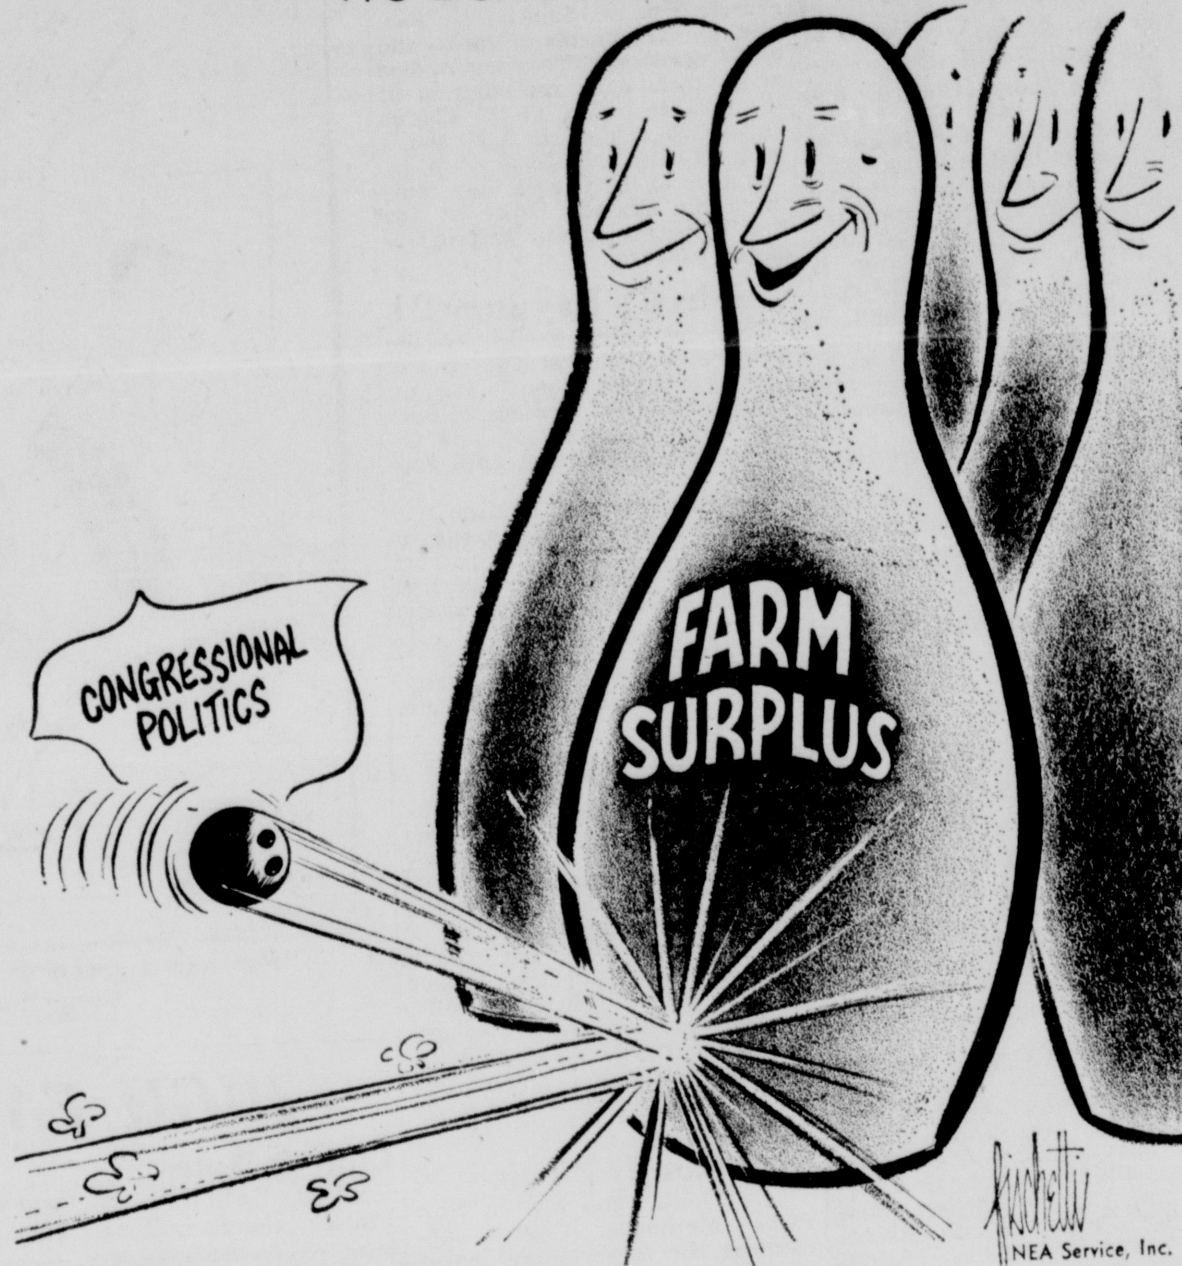

Self-treatment is undesirable because the drugs contained in some of the preparations used may set up a secondary irritation of the skin. Some of my skin specialist friends have told me that they have more trouble treating the skin of those who have worked on themselves than they do with the disease.

In recent years some doubt has been cast on the contagiousness of ringworm. For example, a number of healthy volunteers placed their feet in water which had been contaminated with the fungi, causing ringworm, but not one of them caught the disease.

Thus it seems that susceptibility, the reasons for which are still obscure, is about as important as being exposed to the fungi.

for the end of time." His conclusion, both stated and implied, is that the American public had better start doing more to get ready for those problems as the need for solutions becomes imperative. It is a conclusion that merits careful thought, not only in Washington but in every state.

"Listen to the Phony Moans When We Don't Go Down"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—President Eisenhower almost started something when he suggested to his last conference that maybe the American people were ready for some constitutional changes in the United States form of government.

What we had in mind was putting in some modification of the British parliamentary form of government over here.

But then, in answer to a follow-up question, the President said he had explored this idea with the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. They finally decided that the American people wouldn't know how to handle the British parliamentary system over here. Furthermore, the U. S. governmental system was better, anyhow, with many advantages.

What brought all this up was an observation that the Republicans might be able to win the presidency again in 1960, with the Democrats keeping control of Congress.

This has been the situation here since 1955. And it has completely stymied the President's program. But there is considerable doubt whether a shift in American government to the parliamentary system would change this end result one bit. It might make things worse.

UNDER THE BRITISH SYSTEM all members of the cabinet are chosen from men who have been elected to Parliament. In this country they would be congressmen.

The advantage of this system is that it makes the legislative majority more co-operative with the cabinet. And it makes the cabinet more responsible to the lawmakers. Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), who was a Rhodes scholar, several years ago proposed making U. S. cabinet members report to the full Congress for questioning, in imitation of the British system. But he never bowed over a wicket with it.

Just consider what things would be like here if President Eisenhower had to pick his cabinet from the Republican members of Congress. This would mean that Rep. Charlie Halleck, of Indiana, as GOP leader in the House, would be Ike's prime minister, assistant president or something.

It is assumed that under this system the U. S. Senate would be elevated to some status like the House of Lords, and senators couldn't serve on the cabinet.

Assuming further that Congress would never give up its sacred seniority system, Rep. Robert B. Chipperfield (Ill.), ranking Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, would become U. S. secretary of state.

John Taber (N.Y.) or Richard Simpson (Pa.), who don't always see eye-to-eye with Ike, might be his secretary of the treasury; Le. Arends (Ill.) might be defense secretary; William M. McCulloch (Ohio), attorney general, Charles B. Hoeven (Iowa) might be at agriculture; John B. Bennett (Mich.) at commerce; John P. Saylor (Pa.) interior; Carroll D. Keams (Kan.) labor; Edwin H. Rees (Kan.) postmaster general, and maybe somebody like Clare Hoffman (Mich.) secretary of health, education and welfare.

Something seems to indicate it just wouldn't work.

AND IF THE PRESIDENT had to choose his cabinet from the Democrats in years when the Democratic party controlled the House, it might not even work worse.

Speaker Sam Rayburn would be prime minister all right. Thomas E. Morgan (Pa.) — an M.D. by the way — would be secretary of state, with Carl Vinson (Ga.) defense secretary, Clarence Cannon (Mo.), Brent Spence (Ky.) or Wilbur Mills (Ark.) might be secretary of treasury. Harold D. Cooley (N.C.) might be at agriculture; Wayne Aspinall (Colo.) interior; Oren Harris (Ark.) commerce; Graham A. Barden (N.C.) labor; Tom Murray (Tenn.) postmaster general, and maybe William L. Dawson (Ill.) at HEW.

The hunch is that President Eisenhower could never get along with all those conservative southerners. And they wouldn't get along with Celler and Dawson. It's no wonder Ike and Dulles decided to forget the whole thing.

Unusual Parallel Is Noted In U. S., British Politics

By DAVID LAWRENCE

LONDON—There's an extraordinary parallel between the political situation in Great Britain and in the United States.

Conservative governments with a liberal flavor are in power in both countries, and both face a general election soon.

No outstanding issues have yet appeared in either country, though the nature of the running attack on the incumbent party in both Britain and America is very much the same.

Thus, the British Socialist Labor party has been trying to capitalize on the unemployment situation, just as the Democratic party has in the United States. But, fortunately, the two countries are emerging from the recession, and it looks like a boom ahead for both. Spotty areas of unemployment still exist, but the drop in the jobless figure in Britain has been very sharp in recent weeks. On the whole, the improvement of the standard of living here has been such that the Conservative government, headed by Prime Minister Macmillan, is already brooding for the stump an American political slogan of Yester-year: "you never had it so good!"

Political trends in Britain as well as in the United States are primarily affected by economic contentment of discontent or by emotional issues, particularly those related to war or peace. That's why there has been pressure in this country for an agreement with the Soviets to suspend nuclear tests and a considerable demand for a "summit" meeting. The drive for these two things is associated in the public mind with progress toward peace. Indeed, there is noticeable here an almost pacifistic sentiment which doesn't appear to have reasoned very deeply that such a manifestation could in itself mislead a potential adversary into a wrong move which might bring on a war.

On Claiming Prosperity
Oddly enough, the pressure for a "summit" conference comes as persistently from the opposition party here as it does from the Democrats in the United States. The politicians have not forgotten that "peace and prosperity" can work for either political party if somehow the public can be convinced that the credit for achieving it lies with the champions of that doctrine and that the blame for frustrating the objective belongs to the opposite party.

Actually, there isn't any evidence yet that the parties in Britain have crystallized their viewpoint on political issues. For the present, the opposition here, as in America, contents itself with efforts to make it appear that the party in power isn't really as capable as are the folks who are trying to get into office.

But there is one issue that may turn out to be a gift to the Conservatives. It is the British Labor party's schism over the proposal of various trade unions which by resolution recently demanded that Britain of her own accord — that is to say "unilaterally" — should agree to stop all nuclear tests, no matter what other nations do. This type of proposal appeared in vague form during the 1956 Presidential campaign in the United States and accounted for a considerable loss of votes to the Democrats. The Republican rebuttal was that America couldn't afford to give up testing unless fool-proof agreements were reached with the Soviets.

The suggestion heard in governmental circles here is that, if the Socialist Labor party really backs the idea of "unilateral" suspension of nuclear tests, the country will be persuaded to believe that it cannot entrust the reins of power to any government with such a concept of national duty. The Conservatives would be quick to take advantage of the split in the Socialist Labor party ranks. For the more responsible elements in that party are as bitterly opposed to any "unilateral" action as anybody in the present government.

There can be no doubt that a conservative trend has developed here in Britain and that the British people have veered away from the "nationalization" concepts on which the Socialist Labor party has campaigned in past elections. The leaders of that party talk less and less of socialization schemes, because they know that the confusion which resulted in such industries as were nationalized has been widely publicized.

Conservatism in economic matters here has made great strides, as it always will when the facts are known to all the people. Conservative governments work well with other international because they have a mutual understanding of economic facts.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

A few weary words of Senator John McClellan, toward the close of the long, sordid expose of corruption in unions, were a sermon of mourning more eloquent than any political oration, religious discussion or book in all the quarter-century since this ugly thing began to show its fangs under Roosevelt.

"It is obvious to the whole country," he said, "that the labor unions, themselves, cannot handle this. The time has come for Congress to seriously consider the enactment of special anti-trust legislation in the transportation field."

This localized mention of transportation referred to Jim Hoffa, the successor to Al Capone as the chief challenger of the authority of government and sovereignty of the people. The bawling union and Hoffa's recorded not only in the McClellan hearings but in the Clarence Hoffman hearings of a minor house committee long ago.

Hoffa is boss of a grand system of rackets, a fact more tragic because smart, cooperative "business" men in business and make money. Now and then one of them or a small group of them comes to a stand and makes a strident pretense of fighting. But, six weeks or three months later, there is a "compromise" and these "business" men sell out their workers and their country.

Association of employers, managers, of "executive directors" aged by Hoffa's own list. Senator McClellan is an honest, serious man. His only peer in these traits in all this evil experience has been Barry Goldwater, of Arizona, who seemed to fight alone when Hoffa was over the patient. Some will forgive him, though I cannot, for his failure to put Dave Dubinsky to the same ordeal that Beck, Hoffa and Maurice Hutcheson, of the carpenters union, had to stand.

Of course, as McClellan says, "the unions, themselves, cannot handle the critical problem of racketeering," when most of the powers of this machine are implicated by years of prosperous association. How can George Meany, who has command respect in view of the fact that Joe Ryan, of the longshoremen, was the man who, by a crooked deal, elected Meany president of the New York State AF of L? (Meany kicked Ryan in the face when Ryan was down and out.)

Can Meany command respect in view of the fact that he has been in the office lay between Ryan's on one side and Joe Fay's on the other? Thus when Fay sojourned in Sing Sing, hiding his time in a sinecure hard by the chapel, George Meany, the "reformer," went on tiptoe to consult him on topics never yet revealed.

In New York again, an immigrant from Soviet Russia, who struck the hospitals, predicting assault on whomsoever, previously had praised the Communists for helping the American workers. But Mike Quill, of the revolutionary transport workers, a union with a brooding record of wantonness against innocent passengers, throws in with this man. And Harry Vansdale, president of the central labor council, intervened for this union with no mention of his own record of shooting two men in a union hall and his vindication after the union had paid them damages. By careful legal proviso these payments were not bribes to frustrate justice. Nor any reference to the death by gunshot of one witness to this affray and the maiming of another by acid in his face.

Van Arsdale is now a labor statesman, giving an annual scholarship to some promising boy in memory of his old friend, a venerable crook, Bill Hogan, late secretary-treasurer of Electricians' Local 3, who went to Sing Sing for robbing the widows' and orphans' fund. But Quill and Van Arsdale walked the hospital picket-line.

Even half-educated in all this perfidy, McClellan perceives now that the unions are incapable of reforming from within.

Do we let murders reform themselves?

Use of dogs in warfare is not a modern practice. The ancient Greeks got credit for first mobilizing dogs to do battle. With the Romans, they used dogs as real shock troops, even clothing them in armor.

Matter of FACT

The history of Britain is obscure until the Roman invasions of the first century B.C. When the island was brought into contact with the continent. At the time, the inhabitants, called Britons, spoke various Celtic dialects, farmed and used iron for tools and weapons. During the 300 years England was a Roman province, cities were built with baths and theaters and long, straight roads to join them.

Crime Pays on Shaky Bidding

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

If you don't think that crime sometimes pays just see what East and West go away with at the Midland, Tex., tournament. To start with East had nothing that looked like a takeout double of North's third hand club bid. West's no-trump was sound enough except for his total lack of a heart stopper and North should have passed rather than raise his partner in hearts.

As for West's two spade bid the less said the better. Three headed by the six spot is not a biddable suit.

If South had thought of a double West would have been almost knocked out of the State of Texas but South went to three hearts.

West doubled that. He did not know that he could set it but he wanted no part of a three spade bid by his partner.

West turned out to be lucky. He opened the king of clubs and there was no way that South

Doctor Charged
In Record Change
Due to Testify

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—One of two physicians charged with falsifying treatment records of a woman who died of radiation burns is expected to testify in his own defense.

It was reported Thursday night that Dr. Victor Drucker may take the stand at a public hearing being conducted by Harold G. Koach, administrator of Binghamton City Hospital.

Dr. Drucker and his superior, Dr. Elmer G. St. John, chief radiologist at the municipal institution, were suspended last month.

The hospital completed its case against the physicians Thursday. The attorney for Dr. St. John entered a point-by-point denial of the charges and rested his case without calling any witnesses.

Both physicians are accused of falsifying records of the treatments given Mrs. Elizabeth Cowan, a 70-year-old cancer patient who died April 26 of radiation burns.

Attorneys for the doctors moved for dismissal of the charges on the ground that the proof was insufficient. They also objected to the joint hearing.

Koach denied the dismissal motion and ruled that the hearing, which began Monday, would continue as a joint hearing.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The big in the space age and the jet age is between the United States and Russia. But there are little races today within the big race. And one is between the vacuum tube, the transistor and the magnetic amplifier.

All three industries are growing. New uses are being found for each. And sometimes the devices team up on a job. They are used as aids to automation and for providing control systems for missiles, conventional and jet aircraft, atomic submarines, nuclear power installations and industrial controls.

Let's look only at the development of the amplifier, which has mushroomed, largely since 1950, into an industry with annual sales of 125 million dollars, divided among 150 manufacturers.

The magnetic amplifier is a solid state or static device designed to control a large amount of power with a small quantity of electric current. It has a saturable core—ring or rings of nickel-iron alloy or metal oxide compositions—with separate windings of copper wire for AC and DC current affecting the magnetic qualities of the core. A typical component is six by four by four inches.

Among major producers are Westinghouse, General Electric, Vickers and Magnetic Amplifiers Inc. They entered the field from 1950 through 1952.

Advantages claimed for the magnetic amplifiers are: No moving parts, no glass envelopes to break or filaments to burn out, resistance to extreme high or low temperatures, isolated input and output circuits, no warm-up time, and a life expectancy of 10 years.

Germany got the jump on other nations in the 1930s with development of the nickel-iron alloy core. This baffled allied naval forces for a time in World War II, because attacks against the German cruiser Gneisenau had virtually no effect on its gun controls and steering mechanism. Similar punishment seriously disabled allied craft.

The United States used the amplifiers extensively in the Korean war.

Favor More Grain
Shipments for
Port of New York

WASHINGTON (AP)—New York's congressional steering committee wants the government to ship more grain through the Port of New York.

The committee, which met Thursday with Gov. Rockefeller of New York, said less than four per cent of all government overseas grain shipments goes through the New York port, compared with 40 per cent of all war materials and food during World War II.

The New York port should get a larger share of the shipments because the state contributes almost 20 per cent of all federal revenues, the committee maintained.

The group said it would ask the U. S. Agriculture Department for a "fair share" of overseas grain shipments to famine and other disaster areas. Approximately 249,000 tons of wheat were sent overseas under this program in the seven months ended last March, it said.

The committee discussed, but took no action on year-round operation of Camp Drum, near Watertown, N. Y. The camp is open about seven months a year for training of National Guard and Army reserve troops.

Rockefeller, who suggested formation of the bi-partisan committee two months ago, attended a reception given by the lawmakers.

Those attending were: Reps. Emanuel Celler and James J. Delaney, both Democrats; John Tanager and William E. Miller, both Republicans; and GOP Sens. Kenneth B. Keating and Jacob K. Javits.

Average cost of drilling an oil well is $40,000 to $50,000, though costs of some wells have run up to $1,000,000.

May Decide Soon
About Abandoning
Milk Price Link

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department may announce soon whether it plans to abandon temporarily a plan to tie producer prices of Class 1 fluid milk in the New York-New Jersey area to Midwestern condenser milk prices.

Dairy groups supplying the Eastern market and congressmen in that area have voiced stiff opposition to the plan. It was advanced May 1 as a proposed amendment to a federal order regulating the sale of fluid milk in the New York-New Jersey area.

The opponents contend the plan would affect adversely income of milk producers. It has been reported that the Agriculture Department had shelved the proposed amendment pending discussion of it next fall at a public hearing in Elmira, N. Y. Department officials, declined to comment on the reports Thursday.

However, they said a postmortem was discussed Wednesday with representatives of dairymen and that an announcement on the matter may be made soon.

The proposed amendment would set maximum margins by which the price of Class 1 fluid milk in the New York-New Jersey area may exceed the level of Midwest condenser prices.

These maximum margins would range from $2.20 to $2.80 a hundred pounds ($65 quarts), depending upon supplies of milk in the market. Under present conditions, officials said, the maximum margin would be $2.50 if the amendment were in effect.

The proposed amendment was discussed at a public hearing in Elmira last January.

Sailing Is Canceled

NEW YORK (AP)—The Italian

line has canceled the sailing of its strike-bound flagship, the Giulio Cesare, stranding 874 passengers bound for Mediterranean ports.

The line told the passengers on Thursday they must disembark by 11 a. m. today and that it would refund fares or endorse tickets to other lines. Originally, 1,175 passengers were aboard the Cesare when crewmen struck Tuesday in a wage dispute.

The line also announced cancellation of the return run of the liner Vulcania, which docked here Thursday. About 1,300 persons had booked passage on the Vulcania, scheduled to sail Saturday.

The Cesare had been held in port by a worldwide strike of the Italian Seamen's Union.

Downtown Man Is Held on Charge Involving Child

Theodore VanDyke, 22, of 238 East Union Street, was arrested this morning on a charge dealing with the alleged endangering of the life or health of a child.

Police claim statements involving alleged complicity in the rape charge against Raymond Marshall, 18, of Box 259 1/2, East Kingston, who was arrested recently. That alleged crime, police charged, took place at VanDyke's living quarters. A 13-year-old girl was said to be involved.

VanDyke was arrested on a warrant executed by officers Raymond Wells and Garvin Fisher. The defendant indicated today that he was unable to obtain counsel and City Judge Aaron E. Klein assigned Attorney Bernard A. Feeney Jr., to appear for him. The case was put over to June 16, and bail, fixed at $500, was not immediately supplied.

Marshall was arrested last Sunday after investigations by sheriff's men and local detectives. The case was put over to June 15 to permit him time to obtain counsel.

John E. Gotelli appeared for the district attorney's office in court today.

Pickets Reported At Juice Firm

Some 35 employees were reported picketing the Seneca Grape Juice Corp., Highland, today in an organizational dispute with management.

KPA Has Special Vote

Several officers of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association were elected yesterday due to promotion of patrolmen to the rank of detective. Those holding the latter rank are not permitted to hold a KPA office. Elected were Meyer Levy as secretary to replace Albert Hutton; Bernard Fowler to replace Harold DeGraff as treasurer; and Francis McCullough as financial secretary. John R. Crespinio remains as president. Regular KPA elections are held in the fall.

It will continue to strike as swiftly, devastatingly and unexpectedly as ever." He reported progress toward proper protection in his state, and suggested that the summer vacation period would be a good time for bringing up to safety standards.

Through June 30

Gaffney's resignation becomes effective June 30. The appointment of a successor for the unfinished portion of the term will be made by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller. The office will be at stake again in the general election next November.

Davis, a practicing attorney with offices at 12 John Street, has held no previous elective office.

He has been active in civic and fraternal affairs of the community and served as the first Civil Defense director for the city of Kingston. He was the first chairman of the 300th anniversary committee for the Kingston tercentennial in 1952.

He is now serving as president of the Ulster County Bar Association.

Davis is a past commander of Kingston Post 150, American Legion. He is a member of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

Denies Dewey Took Money for Promotion

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese government backtracked today and admitted that Thomas E. Dewey has not accepted a $200,000 offer to promote the sale of Japanese products in the United States.

A government announcement on Thursday implied that the two-time Republican presidential candidate and former New York governor had accepted the Japanese government's offer of that sum for a year, during which he would promote Japanese sales and work against moves to curb Japanese imports into the United States. Dewey is now in private law practice in New York.

Steel Talks Show No Progress Yet

NEW YORK (AP)—A disagreement over procedure stalled contract negotiations in the basic steel industry today with the expiration date for present contracts less than three weeks away.

The 171-member Wage Policy Committee of the United Steelworkers of America meets here today. It was expected to proclaim its support of David J. McDonald, president of the union and its chief negotiator, in his demand for higher wages and other benefits.

No progress was reported after Thursday's negotiating session. The current three-year contract expires June 30. If no new contract is reached by then, there almost certainly will be a strike by 500,000 union members in plants that produce 90 per cent of the nation's steel.

The new dispute over procedure concerns whether the negotiations should be conducted on an industry or a company basis, or a combination.

Newsman See

ness was New York's. But newsmen thought they detected in his smiling, handshaking progress about town.

Helped Found Club

The pleasure was centered at the Capitol Hill Club, a Republican organization which he had helped to found.

In between, reporters put to him in varying forms the big question of whether he will be available for the 1960 Republican nomination.

A score of smiling replies melted down to the standard formula—"I'm not a candidate for anything. All I want is to be a good governor of New York." About as far as he would go beyond that was to say that he would wait to see if his name were entered in next year's New Hampshire presidential primary and then would decide what he would do.

Would Be Early Test

That primary would provide an early test against Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the nomination.

At the Capitol Hill Club Rockefeller dined and ate Maine lobsters and the club after shaking hands with everybody, including the waiters, a group of youngsters, driving an over-age car bearing signs reading "Nixon in '60" and "Stick with Dick Nixon," went tooting by.

Stooping down under the trees to read the signs, Rockefeller clapped his hands in brief applause.

Covers Wide Range

Nixon spoke on a wide range of subjects at the dinner sponsored by the civic club.

He predicted that labor reform will be a "major issue in the 1960 presidential campaign and should be." He expressed doubt that the current session of Congress would enact labor reform legislation.

Returning Today

Rockefeller returns to New York today. He spent the night at the home of Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind) who might be expected to be a Nixon supporter.

The grounds around the Capitol Hill Club were decked out with a couple of sidishow tents for the lobster supper, which members in the lobby were barred and several of Rockefeller's more vocal supporters for the presidency purposely stayed away.

Rep. B. Carroll Reece (R-Tenn), president of the club and a Nixon man, introduced Rockefeller and asked him to say a few words. Rockefeller responded with a light touch, except for a few serious remarks in praise of Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass), former House minority leader.

Only Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield showed up from the Cabinet. But Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the Republican national chairman, was there.

He sat at an informal head table with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and others.

Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, who ousted Martin from the leadership, arrived late and found no chair available. But he was hastily installed at the head table.

In his rounds about Washington, Rockefeller dropped a few political crumbs here and there. He said that as an "academic question," it was true that experience as governor of New York qualified a man for the White House "on the administrative side but not on the international side."

While he declined to talk about 1960 national Republican prospects, he said that "we have a strong party position in New York."

Asked by reporters what he regards as the principal political issues for next year, he replied: "I'll tell you the honest truth. I have not given consideration to that."

Garage, Office

George Majestic (D) of Gardiner was to propose was not brought up since it had been filed with the clerk too late for action. His resolution had been designed to "commend" Governor Rockefeller and the legislature on passage of the "no talk, no contract" law which becomes effective July 1.

Missed Deadline

At the last meeting of the board it was voted that all resolutions be filed with the clerk by noon on the Monday preceding the meeting. Majestic did not file his until after noon.

After the session Majestic told reporters he had been in the building at 12:20 but had not filed the copy until 12:55 when the secretary returned from lunch.

Three other resolutions which had not been filed in time to get on the agenda for the caucus of the Democratic members were withdrawn after Minority leader John J. Gaffney (D), Lloyd, objected. He said the Majestic resolution was "thrown out" because of lateness of filing and he said all late resolutions should be similarly treated.

The resolutions which were withdrawn pertained to one on Errors in Assessment, an appropriation for Mental Health Board and one for transfer of funds in the Probation Department.

Majority Leader McHugh gave an oral report for the committee on "State Contract" purchases. He said the committee had met three times and had made a trip to Albany to investigate but was not ready to make a report. He asked for an additional 30 days. There was no objection.

A resolution by McHugh authorizing the Rights of Way committee to proceed with securing rights of way for construction of the Brunswick Bridge in the town of Shawangunk, a Federal Aid bridge, was unanimously approved. If unable to agree on prices condemnation proceedings are authorized.

Opposed by Democrats

There was considerable opposition by the Democratic members to a resolution of Supervisor Richard Lent (R) of New Paltz. Lent proposed a resolution which called attention that from time to time resolutions have been offered proposing programs which necessitate the expenditure of county funds in order to carry out the proposed program.

Little or no information is submitted with respect to estimated cost and proposed manner of payment. The resolution stated, "This information should be considered essential prior to taking a vote, the resolutions stated. Lent's resolution proposed that each such resolution which proposes a program requiring the expenditure of county funds shall include therein, so far as practicable, a detailed estimate of the cost of such program, together with a recommendation as to the proposed manner of financing such program."

Objection was voiced by Supervisor Mollenhauer (D) of Rosendale who called attention to the bridge resolution just approved. He questioned how any estimate of the cost could be made.

(D) Ninth Ward, said if such estimates were made public jobs would cost more since bidders had been tipped off as to the estimated cost.

Cites Taxpayer

Lent replied that taxpayers should be advised as to large expenditures since it was their money being spent. He said the estimates could "get close" to cost and as to the bridge estimates he said the county superintendent of highways probably could give information.

Supervisor Gaffney (D) said in his opinion a committee could get better information on costs than the individual who might offer a resolution and that resolutions for large expenditures should be referred to committee for action to be taken at a later meeting.

Supervisor James T. McCordle (D) Ninth Ward, moved to table the Lent resolution. That motion was lost 18 to 14.

Turkey Votes With Republicans

On the Lent motion vote his resolution was adopted by a 19 to 13 vote with Democratic Supervisor Lent voting with the Republicans for the resolution.

A claim of Walter H. Brown for $1,500 for damages suffered in a county road accident was settled by payment of $558.56.

The board approved settlement of a claim against the O&W Railroad for back taxes for the sum of $60,000. There is a total of some $28,241. There is a total of some $28,241. There is a total of some $28,241.

The settlement will become effective only if all other claimants for back taxes approve similar payments. The O&W, in financial difficulty for years, has claims totaling about $45,000, 000 against it and there is approximately $8,000,000 available to meet these claims. William H. Fitzgerald of Middletown represents many of the claimants and has proposed settlement following conferences with creditors.

Supervisor John C. Quimby (D) Marlboro, sought to discuss the Lent resolution but since the vote had been taken he drew his request for the floor. It was then the Turkey Rapp hassel took place and the motion to adjourn came.

Vote on $1,436,179

Saugerties School Budget July 14

Saugerties Central School District taxpayers in addition to voting on the proposed $1,436,179.40 budget will ballot on two propositions relating to school board term of office and transportation contracts, July 14 in the Main Street School.

Voting on the three propositions will take place during the meeting scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

The next day, July 15 the qualified voters of the district will elect three board members, two for five-year terms and one for one year. Voting machines will be used.

Balloting will be from 12 noon to 9 p. m.

The terms of Kenneth Beadle, Milton Armstrong and Mrs. Mary Lasher, expire this year.

The last day for filing nominating petitions for board members is June 30. A nominating petition must contain 25 signatures of qualified voters of the district with the address of the signer, name and residence of the candidate, and the term he seeks.

One of the propositions to be voted upon at the annual meeting will be a proposal to change the term of office of a board member from five years to three years.

The third proposition will be on a proposal to change the transportation contract term now one year to a longer period not to exceed three years.

The presentation of a resolution by proponents of full time driver education classes is expected.

The school board in recent economy moves has cut full time driver training from the new budget. Arguments for reinstatement of the course to full status swayed some of the board members and resulted in a 4 to 1 tie vote at the Wednesday night meeting. The final decision rests with the district taxpayers at the annual meeting.

Seven Meet Death

In Fiery Collision

TUSCOLA, Ill. (AP)—A family group of four women and a man nearing home after vacationing in New York and two young women were killed in a fiery collision of two autos on a two-lane highway Thursday night.

The vacationists, within 20 miles of their homes, were a husband and wife and their teen-age daughter and two sisters of the dead woman. Their car burst into flames after the collision.

The two young women in the second car apparently were on their way home to nearby Atwood when the crash occurred about 9:30 p. m. about three miles east of the central Illinois town.

Sheriff Eugene Miller said a car driven by Miss Rosalee Bragg, 21, slid off the highway — U.S. 36 — and then backed into the path of a car driven by Joseph Harmon, 38, a farmer.

Killed with Harmon were his wife, Josephine, 36, an elementary school teacher; their daughter, Greta, 19, and Mrs. Harmon's sisters, Agnes D. Pistorious, about 54, and Constance Bean, about 52.

Evelyn Louise Smith, about 19, the seventh victim, was a passenger in the car driven by Miss Bragg.

'Stop Carlino' Move Draws Cool Reception

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A new "stop Carlino" move by Assemblyman Leo A. Lawrence drew a cool, initial reception from Republican assemblymen today.

Lawrence invited the GOP lawmakers to a meeting in Syracuse June 22 to organize opposition to the election of Majority Leader Joseph F. Carlino of Nassau County as Assembly speaker.

Carlino has been considered virtually assured of the post left vacated last month by the death of Oswald D. Heck.

Gov. Rockefeller is expected to call a special session of the Legislature around June 30 so the Assembly can fill the post.

Lawrence maintains that the speaker's post should go to an Upstate member.

Girl, 11, Found Dead; Just Won Swimming Test

GLENS FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—An 11-year-old girl was found dead Thursday night in the swimming pool at Glens Falls Junior High School a few minutes after she won a speed test.

Dr. Seymour Hopfan, Warren County coroner, ordered an autopsy to determine the cause of death of Geraldine Ferguson.

Geraldine swam to the shallow end of the pool and stood resting after winning a race, Mrs. Phyllis Williams, a Red Cross water safety instructor said.

Mrs. Williams said she looked away for a minute and when she looked back the girl was under water.

Geraldine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ferguson.

Dies of Burns

SAYRE, Pa. (AP)—Harold R. Arnold, 52, of Nichols, N. Y., died in a hospital Thursday of burns suffered in a gasoline explosion.

Arnold and his son, Richard, were filling a lantern with gasoline April 16 when a match was dropped accidentally into the can of fuel.

The son escaped injury.

SHOKAN — Julius Rudolph, Eddyville, was a caller in the hub of the reservoir country Sunday.

Olive residents attending the Bryant old store auction at Big Indian Friday included John Marshall, Bob Vollmer, Clyde Vinchell, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gulnac. An immense stock of general merchandise was disposed of at the sale which continued through Saturday.

Frances Leyman, postmaster and owner of the store, is daughter of T. J. Bryant who started in business 67 years ago. Considerable bulldozing has been done on both sides of the Bryant property which is one of three buildings taken for the new alignment of Route 28 in the village.

Among the many out of town people calling in the village center the past few days were: Mrs. H. Ward, W. 231 Street, New York; Mrs. H. Olson, Huntington Station; Mrs. William Basten, Pine Island; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sylvanus, Beacon; George Goring, Hackensack, N. J.; and Christopher Farley, New York City.

Also in town were Dr. Edmund Toaselli, Woodstock; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Longyear, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Eddie Cooper, Kingston; Lewis and Thomas Hallenbeck, Woodland Valley; and Ethel Roosa, New York City.

Having a birthday June 13 is Earl Elmendorf who was born and brought up here, elder son of Henry and Sarah Coons Elmendorf.

Mrs. LeRoy Davis, the former Anna Oakley, is reported a hospital patient in Kingston following a sudden attack of illness.

Frederick Aalto, Ashokan young man, was slated to graduate June 7, from Phillips Exeter Academy, N. H.

Robert and Duane Winnie with their contracting equipment are engaged in putting up fabricated houses in the Danbury, Conn., area. Duane, who formerly was employed at the Tarrytown Chevrolet plant, and his wife and son have moved from Mt. Kisco to their house on the Ashokan mountain road.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Osterhoudt, Clearwater, Fla., are at the Nellie Greene cottage in the Acorn Hill area for the summer months. Ward is son of Luther Osterhoudt, a well known school teacher who resided at Palen-town.

Mrs. Leonard Ruckert is spending some time at Reading, Pa., where she went to be with her daughter, Mrs. Walter Zanis, during the latter's illness.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 12 — Less than 30 years ago practically all the citrus fruit shipped out of Florida was "whole fruit." The necessity of discovering some way to cut heavy marketing and transportation costs led to the formation of citrus cooperatives. Growers pooled their resources. With the aid of chemists and representatives of the canning industry, plus helpful state and federal legislation, they developed methods of canning appetizing orange, lemon, grapefruit, prune, grape and other juices. Somewhat later, research has succeeded in providing us with the splendid frozen juice concentrates.

What the citrus producers have accomplished by working together with the help of chemists and industrialists should encourage other fruit and vegetable growers. Although canned and frozen fruits and vegetables have made great strides in winning public acceptance, certain sectors of the over-all food industry are poorly organized. Except for a few large operators, except for fruit, vegetable, and fish is being carried on in haphazard fashion. Quality needs to be made more uniform, while processing and marketing operations could profitably be streamlined.

What's Ahead for Canners?

Despite sharp increases in consumption of frozen foods, the canned-food industry appears to be maintaining its relatively strong position. Aided by population increases and higher personnel income, canners have made good postwar gains. During the next ten years, I predict canners will have to devote more time and thought to their raw material sources. Tighter control of plantings will be a "must." In some cases, it will be advantageous for canners to purchase outright the fruit groves or vegetable acreage needed to assure them of adequate supplies and to enable them to compete with truly synthetic products.

Canners' cost have been trending upward for some years now. They will rise at an even faster rate during the next ten years. Both skilled and unskilled labor on farms and in the groves and canning plants will command higher wages. More money will be needed for containers and for canning and freezing machinery replacement, although I do not now foresee any early switch-over to aluminum cans. However, food processors are becoming more interested in synthetic foods and drinks, such as "Tang" put out by General Foods as a substitute for orange juice.

Frozen Foods Outlook

Vegetables are in Number One place as far as frozen foods volume is concerned. Other leading income producers are poultry, fruit juices, "prepared" foods, seafoods, eggs, and meats. Frozen poultry and "prepared" frozen foods have made impressive recent volume gains. The "prepared" foods of the frozen variety are those which have already been given certain preparatory operations usually performed by the housewife. They give her more leisure time and thus will become even more popular as flavor and appearance are improved upon.

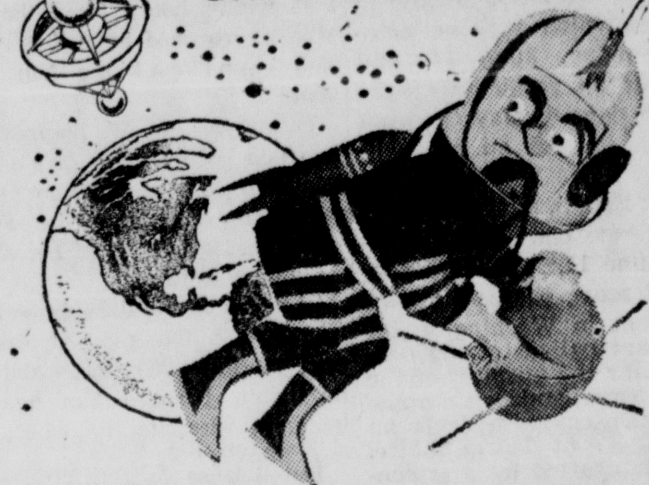

Frozen food producers are more alert to the need for research than are canners. All products will win even wider acceptance as the results of research are translated into more flavorful and appetizing products. Also, frozen foods volume should make good gains as a result of the greater availability of mechanically refrigerated railroad cars and trucks, retail display cabinet space, and back-room refrigerated storage space.

"Contract" Farming

Farming is in the midst of a great change. Gradually, agriculture is being remade into a more vital part of our industrial economy. Fruit and vegetable production, canning, freezing, as well as marketing, are becoming

Legion Asks All To Display Flags Sunday, June 14

Commander Jules Albertini of Kingston Post 150, American Legion, called attention today to Flag Day which will be celebrated Sunday, June 14, and urged that all residents of the area with flags display them on that occasion and on all holidays.

Thomas Bohan, past State Department vice commander, said that on June 14, 1923, representatives of more than 68 organizations met in Washington for a conference called by and conducted under the auspices of the National Americanism Commission of the Legion to draft an authentic code of flag etiquette.

The code drafted by that conference was printed by the Legion and given nationwide distribution. Millions of copies have been placed in the hands of interested citizens since 1923-24.

The 77th Congress of the United States passed Public Law 623 which is a codification of the flag code, a law which was later amended and the code has now been changed to comply with the law.

Since the original flag conferences the code has been adopted for use by 45 other organizations.

Bohan said Legion posts should bring the rules and diagrams contained in the revised edition to the attention of schools and citizens generally.

Confession Made Hours After Girl Attacked: Deputy

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A sheriff's deputy testified today that within hours after the rape of a Negro coed he had a confession implicating four white youths.

The officer, W. W. Slappey, told a male white jury trying the youths for rape that he talked with the youngest, Ollie Stoutamire, 16, shortly after his arrest.

Slappey testified: "I asked him did he have intercourse with the girl. At first he said no the other three did and he didn't. I asked him again if he were sure and he said: 'Yes sir, we all did.'"

The defense fought bitterly but vainly to prevent introduction of statements taken from the quartet after their arrests. Circuit Judge W. May Walker allowed the state to proceed in offering the statements.

Of a second defendant, Patrick G. Scarborough, 20, Slappey testified:

"He said he didn't know exactly what happened, that he was asleep in the back seat."

Slappey then quoted the eldest of the defendants, William T. Collinsworth, 23, as saying:

"He said two of the boys had intercourse with the girl but he didn't know which two it was, but he wasn't one of them."

The defense already has admitted to the jury that Collinsworth did have relations with the coed.

The action of the board Thursday night in not setting a date and deferring the matter, Curran said constitutes a refusal and he will seek a court order directing the village board to act.

Under the law at least 50 taxpayers must sign a petition and at least a third of the assessed valuation of the municipality must be represented. Curran in his petition alleged that $229,000 of the village total $506,300 assessed valuation is represented by the 183 people who signed the petition for the referendum. It is alleged by petitioners that the Village Law requires the village board to fix a date for a referendum, and having failed to do so the court order is being sought pursuant to Section 56 of the Village Law.

A move for dissolution of the Village of Rosendale, incorporated in 1890 under the laws of 1870, was begun some time ago by a group of taxpayers. When no action was taken Thursday evening at a board meeting, petitioners immediately served notice on the board of intention to seek a court order directing action.

Accepts Custody

NEW YORK (AP) — Dominick (Billy Brown) Mordini, held in bail of $100,000 has been released in $1,000 bond on his promise to accept protective police custody prior to the trial of Paul John (Frankie) Carbo.

Mordini, a former matchmaker for the International Boxing Club, is a material witness in the Carbo case.

Carbo, accused of conspiracy and of being an underworld matchmaker and boxing manager, is fighting extradition from New Jersey.

Chief Asst. Dist. Atty. Alfred J. Scotti requested the cut in Mordini's bail Thursday on condition that Mordini accept round-the-clock police protection.

Mordini's lawyer agreed, but said he wished to make it clear his client "feels he does not need any protective custody."

Rapp Van Lines

Kingston by John M. Mayer, local carriage maker.

Had 11 Teams

At one time the trucking firm owned and drove 11 teams of horses, hauling freight from the Hudson River boats to Kingston and adjacent points. Those were hectic days with rival teams vying for business. When a boat was due to dock, these rivals would gallop their teams to the shore to be first on hand and secure the bulk of the trucking. It was first come, first served. Much of the cargo came by night boat, arriving at 4 a. m. Later much of the freight came by West Shore.

The business came into being when the father of the late William S. Hogan (died March 1, 1954) returned from Hoboken and announced he had bought a horse and wagon which would be up to Kingston on the boat. On April 28, 1887, the venture was launched.

William Pachner Wins First Place For Oil Exhibit

WOODSTOCK — Word has been received from the Butler Institute of Art, Youngstown, Ohio, that William Pachner, Woodstock artist, was awarded first prize in oils at an exhibit there. He will receive $100.

The painting was a "Variation on the Avignon Pietà No. Two." Joseph T. Fraser, director of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, Philadelphia, Pa., was the sole juror.

The painting, which was completed during the winter, is scheduled to be included in a forthcoming travelling retrospective one-man exhibition of William Pachner's work, sponsored by the Ford Foundation program.

Jaynees Have Regular Meeting

Members of the Woodstock Jaynees held their regular meeting June 2 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Larson. Mrs. Pat Carr and Mrs. Dolores Heck were the hostesses.

This meeting was attended by some of the members of the Cossack Jaynees. The Jaynees voted to award two half camperships to girl scouts this summer—one from the Ontario area and one from the Woodstock area.

Mrs. Ann Murphy reported on the Jaynee convention in Elmira. Mrs. Ruth Kelly, local beauty shop proprietor, was the guest speaker.

She talked on makeup, techniques and hair styling.

Although this was the last meeting until the fall, members will be active with many projects. They will sponsor three movies for children, complete the Civil Defense survey under the chairmanship of Margaret Glass and Pat Hastie and work on charter amendments.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—While it may not be a happy harbinger of coming events, next week's television viewing shapes up pretty well.

Included among other items of interest are the premiere of a summertime variety show, an anniversary special and even some fireworks.

One sad note will be struck, however, a week hence, when the last of the well-loved Sgt. Bilko series will be given an original broadcast.

Summer season repeats are gradually taking over a lion's share of television time. But baseball fans at least will be able to catch some big league ball on Saturday and Sunday when NBC broadcasts a pair of Los Angeles Dodgers-Pittsburgh Pirates games.

Saturday night Tony Bennett, Teresa Brewer and the Four Lads will step into the spot vacated by Perry Como in the premiere of a hot weather series called Perry Presents.

James Thurber's scheduled appearance on CBS' The Last Word gives the regular Sunday network show more than its usual interest. And daytime viewers may also see the first of a two-part series on ABC showing military war games filmed in North Carolina.

On Sunday night, however, the Steve Allen Show will be missing from its regular NBC spot and in its place the first of a series of repeats of the Suspicion series, last seen on the network two seasons back. Ed Sullivan, on CBS, however, carries valiantly on.

This week with Wayne and Shuster in some comedy, Robert Merrill with some singing — and a fireworks display honoring the 350th anniversary of the discovery of the Hudson River. The Chevy Show, on NBC starring Janet Blair and John Raitt will have an assist from pianist Joey Bushkin.

And Friday Phil Silvers does his last Bilko episode on CBS.

Stassen Makes Pledge

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Harold Stassen, running for mayor of Philadelphia on the Republican ticket, made a campaign promise Thursday aimed at easing this city's unemployment problem.

Some cities with high unemployment, he said, are footing the transportation bill for their jobless citizens who go to other cities in search of work.

If elected, he said, he will send those coming to Philadelphia back where they came from.

When City Council President James H. J. Tate, a Democrat, heard about the campaign promise of the former Governor of Minnesota, he said:

"Stassen is a migratory worker himself."

Says Loans Better

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee wants a start made next year on a cutting down and eventually wiping out all gifts of foreign economic assistance. It contends loans are better. The committee wrote its demand Thursday into President Eisenhower's $3,950,000,000 foreign aid bill. Both the Senate and the House must agree if it is to become effective. No deadline was fixed.

Dealer—Yes? What kind?
Customer (looking about anxiously)—Oh, a little one. I'll tell you, (solemnly flapping his hands up and down) one that wags his tail this way.
Dealer—What?
Customer—We live in a flat. There isn't room for a dog that wags his tail sideways.

Mrs. FDR, Lehman Score DeSapio in His Own District

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, seeking to dethrone Tammany Hall Leader Carmine G. DeSapio, campaigned in his home district in Greenwich Village Thursday night.

Lehman called DeSapio "an unbearable burden on the back of the Democratic Party."

Mrs. Roosevelt said "no campaign has meant more to me than this campaign to bring democracy to the Democratic Party of New York."

Mrs. Roosevelt and Lehman spoke at a fund-raising dinner of the Village Independent Democrats, a rebel group seeking to oust DeSapio as party leader of the First Assembly District, South.

Defeat of DeSapio in his home district in the Sept. 15 primary could mean his elimination as Manhattan Democratic chieftain.

The village independent Democrats are backing Charles E. McGuinness, a lawyer, against DeSapio.

Mahoney Aide Is Named to PSC

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Ralph A. Lehr of Buffalo, counsel to Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney, was appointed by Gov. Rockefeller today to the Public Service Commission. The post pays $22,000 a year. Lehr, 57, will fill a vacancy created in 1957, when the term of Republican Glen R. Bodenkapp of Lewiston expired during the Democratic administration of former Gov. Averell Harriman. Lehr's term will run to Feb. 1, 1967. His appointment is subject to confirmation by the Senate.

Lehr has been legal advisor to Mahoney, also from Buffalo, for the last two years. The new commissioner also has been, at various times, an assistant U. S. attorney, a Buffalo city councilman, an Erie County supervisor, Erie County attorney and a member of the State Building Code Commission. He has been chairman of the Erie County Republican committee since 1956.

To Fight Committal

Long Still Pins Hope on 4th Term

Conservatives Hold Big Edge In Ontario Win

TORONTO (AP) — Ontario's Conservative Party had a thumping 44-seat majority in the new House today after its sixth straight election victory.

Opposition parties made inroads into the Conservative stronghold and the Liberals made their sharpest gain in 22 years. But Premier Leslie Frost, a 63-year-old small-town lawyer who has led the party for 10 years, declared in a victory speech: "We lost a few to the fortunes of war, but I'm pleased with the results."

The Conservatives have run Ontario's government for 16 years. Frost campaigned on the province's growth and progress during that period.

The Conservatives captured 71 of the 98 seats in the House. In the old Legislature they held 83. All 22 Cabinet ministers were re-elected to their seats in the provincial Parliament.

The Liberals went into Thursday's election under a rookie leader, John Wintermyer. They picked up 11 Conservative seats for a total of 22.

The Socialist Cooperative Commonwealth Federation wrested two seats from the Conservatives in the Toronto area for a total of 5. None of the 9 Communist Labor Progressive candidates came anywhere near winning a seat.

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long, determined to go ahead despite pleas to skip a court sanity hearing Tuesday, holds to his dream of a fourth term in Louisiana.

This remark comes from one of the visitors Long has had recently in a psychiatric clinic here: "He hasn't given up one iota the idea of running again."

As for the scheduled hearing Tuesday in Probate Judge Hugh Gibson's court, the Louisiana informant emphasized: "Long won't budge—he wants that hearing."

Long's attorneys announced Thursday the governor is going to fight to void his wife's committal action. He plans to appear in person and will ask for a jury hearing, Adrian S. Levy Sr., one of three court-appointed attorneys, said.

Levy made the announcement after a closed conference with the 63-year-old Long at John Sealy Hospital.

Mrs. Long came to Galveston Wednesday with doctors from back home and Long's friends in an effort to turn him from the court session.

Impressions of some of the visitors are that Long "still won't acknowledge he's ill—but he admits he's worn out and needs a rest."

Medical authorities said while Long's condition was not too much changed, "he's much more agreeable, more cooperative."

The ill Louisiana chief executive has lost "the terrific amount of resentment," he felt by staying here, the medical spokesman said without being quoted by name.

Daniel Bobbitt, director of hospitals at the big John Sealy Medical Center, pictured Governor Long as a man "very popular" with other patients.

Specialist Says

Barbara to Be Chronic Invalid If He Recovers

JOHNSON CITY, N. Y. (AP)—Joseph Barbara Sr., Apalachin gangland convention host, will be a chronic invalid if he recovers from a heart attack he suffered May 27, a prominent heart specialist says.

The 53-year-old Barbara is in critical condition at Wilson Memorial Hospital.

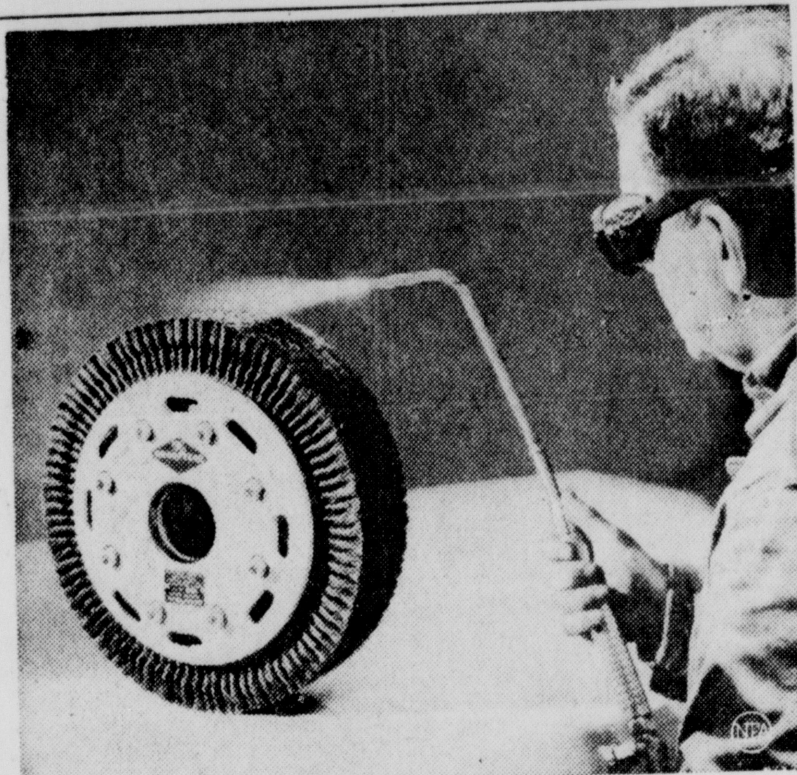

Dr. Louis F. Bishop of New York City, president-elect of the American College of Cardiology, examined Barbara for three hours Thursday. He was called in by Dr. Ronald L. Hamilton, Binghamton heart specialist who has been caring for Barbara.

If Barbara recovers, Dr. Bishop told newsmen, he will be a "chronic invalid with little to offer in the way of heart reserves."

Barbara suffered his first heart attack in 1957.

Many of the 60 hoodlums and friends who convened at Barbara's mansion in November 1957 told State Police they were there merely to visit a sick friend. Troopers broke up the gathering.

Barbara has not been questioned by any of the official agencies seeking to determine what transpired at the meeting. He has pleaded illness each time anyone sought to subpoena him.

TIRE OF WIRE—A new space tire—with no rubber, no fabric and no air—has just been unveiled by Goodyear researchers. Made entirely of wire, and quite similar to wire wheels in workshops, it is designed for use as a landing wheel for rocket ships passing through the thermal barrier, such as the upcoming Dynasoar. It will withstand temperatures in the 1,000-2,000 degree F. range, in flight and during landings. Here a worker applies heat with a blowtorch that would melt a rubber tire. The wire tire has load-carrying characteristics similar to a pneumatic tire. And besides, it's blowout proof.

Time, Krushy May Force Nato Changes

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON (AP)—It's questionable that NATO — greatest peacetime military alliance in history—can hang together, at least as it is now with its 15 members.

Time, changes in the world, and Premier Nikita Khrushchev are all working on it. And Khrushchev's working hard.

It was a moment of terror when the Western allies, including the United States, set up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on April 4, 1949 with the understanding that an attack on one was an attack on all.

Choice Was Slim — Band together in common defense or face the prospect of being picked off one at a time. That was their choice.

The year before, communism had gulped down Czechoslovakia. And in April 1949 Stalin, with his blockade of Berlin, had forced the United States into its historic airlift to save the city.

At that hour in history NATO gave the Allies a greater sense of security than they ever had before or since.

They had a terrifying superiority over Stalin because, if he attacked, the European Allies could hold him off with their ground forces while the United States flattened the Soviets with atomic bombs. That was the theory.

At that instant the United States alone had the atomic bomb. But it was a monopoly which, at the very minute the NATO treaty came into existence, was beginning to disappear.

Early in 1949 the Soviet Union was putting the finishing touches on its own atomic bomb which it was to explode for the first time later in the year. The United States went on to develop the hydrogen bomb. But so did the Soviets by 1953.

Determination Lacking — For lack of determination, the huge land forces which NATO members were supposed to produce never materialized. And, meanwhile, something else happened which made even the fairly small land forces they produced look even smaller.

The Soviets and the United States both developed missiles for crossing continents. Even President Eisenhower acknowledged last March that Allied armies in Europe did not mean much any more because they were overwhelmingly outnumbered by the Soviet Union.

The United States, with its fleets of bombers and their hydrogen bombs based at friendly stations around the Soviet perimeter, can still discourage a Soviet attack. This is still a consolation to the NATO members.

Mixed Consolation — But it is a mixed consolation because of one thing: The world is in a transition period, passing from the day of the bomber to the era of the missile.

The United States is arranging to surround the Soviet Union—again at friendly stations on Allied soil—with bases for missiles which have their noses pointed at Moscow.

cow. In time, when there are enough missiles, the bombers will be obsolete.

But the Soviets are building in the Soviet Union their own bases for missiles pointed westward. In time, with enough hydrogen-headed missiles, Khrushchev could destroy Western Europe.

But it's a pipe-dream if the West thinks the United States can build missile posts right next door to the Iron Curtain and that the Soviets will keep all its own missile bases strictly inside the Soviet Union.

Khrushchev showed what a pipe-dream it is by warning Turkey and Greece, both NATO members, not to permit American missile bases in their territory unless they want him to build missile bases right next door in the Soviet satellites, Albania and Bulgaria.

Cautions Two More — As bait for these four NATO members, he proposed to Greece and Turkey that there be a nuclear-free, missile-free zone from Central Europe to the Mediterranean; to Norway and Denmark he proposed a similar nuclear-free zone in Scandinavia.

It is perhaps significant that Khrushchev, Stalin's successor, is trying to terrorize Greece and Turkey. Stalin tried the same, in another way, back in the late 1940's.

Stalin tried to shake Berlin free of the Western grip in 1949. Now, 10 years later, when he feels strong enough, Khrushchev is trying to shake Berlin free of the West.

Just The Beginning — As Soviet missile power grows and as Khrushchev steps up his campaign to keep American missile bases out of NATO countries, those countries will feel more and more pressure to cut loose from NATO since, if war came, they'd be the nearest targets.

The world may be puzzled by Khrushchev's tactics over Berlin right now. But you can be sure this is just the beginning of a concentrated campaign, to be carried on for years, to shake NATO to pieces.

And even one of the NATO stalwarts, France, made the whole structure shudder this week when President Charles de Gaulle insisted upon having control over any nuclear stockpiles this country wanted to set up in France.

Excelsiors to Get Uniforms on Monday — President Henry Trice of Excelsior Hose Company No. 4 announced today that the company will parade in Catskill on Saturday, June 20, for the convention of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association.

He requests all members of the company to report to the engine house on Hurley Avenue, Monday, when uniforms will be handed out at 8 p. m.

Faces Rare Operation

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Francis F. DiClemente, 16, of Rome, N.Y., undergoes surgery today to repair a hole in the upper chambers of his heart.

Doctors at the University of Minnesota Hospital had planned to perform the operation next Monday. They announced Thursday that the date had been advanced because of DiClemente's favorable physical condition and a vacancy in the surgery schedule.

The doctors have performed similar operations in the past. They use a mechanical pumping device to supply oxygen to the blood and carry on the duties of the heart while the organ is tied off for surgery.

DiClemente was accompanied here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fernando DiClemente.

Dies of Bee Stings

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—A member of a surveying party died here Thursday minutes after he suffered four yellow jacket stings.

N. C. Rudd, head of the party surveying a lake, said that Thomas Benton, 39-year-old Negro, was unconscious when an ambulance arrived and was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

It takes about 60 pellets to make a full-length mink coat.

DAR Hears Talks Given by Exchange Student at Meeting

Speaking at the regular monthly meeting of the Evening Group of Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, on Monday evening, Miss Brigitte van Hooven, the American Field Service Exchange Student from Holland, gave a very enlightening account of her school days in Holland, comparing them with the past year spent as a student at Kingston High School. She warned her audience that they would no longer find Holland the land of wooden shoes and windmills, since wooden shoes are worn chiefly by farmers who must work in heavy clay soils, and the picturesque windmills are giving way in many areas to industrial progress. She pointed out that Holland, which has an area about half the size of the State of South Carolina, has a population of 10,000,000 people. Because of the need of land, Holland has undertaken extensive reclamation projects, whereby lands now below the sea may be reclaimed for habitation.

Miss van Hooven delighted her listeners with witty comparisons of daily life in Holland and America. It was evident, too, that she will carry back to her own country a new outlook on America and its people. She told the group that her school principal had opposed her trip to America, feeling that all young Americans were juvenile delinquents or, at best, spent all their time at "rock and roll."

Miss van Hooven will surely correct this misconception when she returns to her home in Dordrecht and thus international understanding is promoted on the grass roots level.

Following a dinner at Judies' Restaurant, the newly elected officers of the Evening Group were installed by Miss Grace Terwilliger, chapter chaplain. These officers for 1959-60 are: chairman, Mrs. Floyd N. Ellsworth; vice-chairman, Miss Carolyn D. Newkirk; secretary, Mrs. John M. Schleede; and treasurer, Mrs. Harold F. Smith. Miss B. Isabel Herdman, the outgoing chairman, reported that the Evening Group will again this year, as has been its custom for many years, award a prize to the Kingston High School Senior Girl having the highest average in American History.

Arrangements for the dinner were made by Miss Herdman and Mrs. Walter McClure, Jr.

Class Reunion Plans For This Weekend Are Announced Here

Reservations for the alumni weekend of the classes of 1932 through 1936 are nearing the 250 mark according to H. VanWyck Darrow, in charge of tickets for the event.

Scheduled to open tonight with a cocktail party at the Hotel Kirkland, the agenda calls for a tour of present high school facilities on Saturday afternoon, a dinner-dance at the Gov. Clinton Hotel Saturday evening, and special church services for all faiths on Sunday morning.

Reservations are still being received, according to Chairman Darrow, particularly from local graduates. Alumni residing out-of-town have responded far beyond the expectations of the committee, stated the chairman, who pointed out that a feature of the dinner-dance Saturday evening would be an address by John R. Brillion of the Class of 1932.

Miss Patricia McManus of Saugerties Wed To USMA Graduate at St. Mary's Church

St. Mary of the Snows Church, Saugerties, was the scene of the military wedding Sunday, June 7, at 2 p. m. of Miss Patricia Ann McManus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. McManus of Washburn Terrace, Saugerties, and Lt. Marlin Eugene McCahan. Lt. McCahan is the son of Mrs. Barbara L. McCahan of Harrisburg, Pa.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Frawley, assistant pastor of the church.

Soloist Donald Gardner of Saugerties sang "O Lord I Am Not Worthy," "Panis Angelicus," "O Sacred Heart," and Ave Maria," to the accompaniment of Mrs. Aleksander Narel, church organist.

For the occasion the church was decorated with white gladioli and majestic daisies. Family pews were marked with baskets of flowers and large bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in imported hand clipped silk Chantilly lace with bodice including a Sabrina scalloped neckline, hand beaded with iridescent sequins. The gown had long fitted sleeves ending with a point at the wrists and the hem was lace with beaded appliques. The hemline was finished off with natural scallop of lace including around the long cathedral train. The headpiece of sequins secured a bouffant fingertip veil of imported silk French illusion hand rolled edge. She carried a white lace prayer book with white gladioli and streamers of lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Bethany Granwehr of Saugerties, maid of honor, wore a full length gown of starched chiffon in aqua with strapless bodice and very full skirt including a taffeta cummerbund. The back was draped in a very full bustle effect. Her headpiece consisted of a puffed pillbox with a circular veil in aqua. She carried a basket of aqua, pink, yellow and white majestic daisies with baby's breath.

Bridesmaids included Miss Jennifer Westgard of Poughkeepsie, Miss Kathleen Snyder and Miss Rosemary Martin, both of Saugerties. They were attired in gowns similar to that worn by the honor attendant in pink with headpieces consisting of tiaras of pearls with circular veils.

Lt. Lawrence Palmer of Massachusetts was the best man, and ushers included Lt. F. Douglas Anderson of Oklahoma, and Cadet Eugene Lang of West Camp.

Niece of the bride, Nancy Jean Christiansa of Saugerties served as flower girl. Her gown and headpiece was the same as the maid of honor and she carried a basket of aqua, pink, yellow and white majestic daisies with baby's breath.

Cousin of the bridegroom, Harry McGrath of Harrisburg, Pa., was the ringbearer.

Following the ceremony the ushers, all of the U. S. Military Academy, West Point formed an arch of sabers for the bride and bridegroom on the church steps. A reception for 125 guests was held at the Alpine Hotel, DeWitt Lake.

For the wedding journey to the Pocono Mountains, the bride chose for her traveling ensemble a blue print sheath dress with white accessories and a corsage of white lily of the valley.

The bride, a graduate of St. Mary of the Snow School and Saugerties High School, is an office secretary at International Business Machines Corp., Kingston.

The bridegroom was graduated from Sullivan's Prep School, Washington, D. C., Carson Long Military Institute, Pennsylvania, and U. S. Military Academy this year. He will be stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., in August of this year.

Bob Maines Set to Hurl Home Opener for Kingston Braves

Stewart Jets To Play Here Saturday Night

Bob Maines, one of the top pitchers in the New York-New Jersey Baseball League in 1958, will get the call from Manager Norb Fahey Saturday night as the Kingston Braves open their home season with a league game against the hustling Stewart Air Force Base Jets. Game time is 8:30 p. m.

The big southpaw is back in Kingston after a brief fling at minor league ball in the Chicago Cubs farm system. With Bob on the firing line along with two former Trinity College varsity flingers — Fred Vogel and Joe Perrotta, the Braves are well stocked in pitching.

Fahey plans to start a lineup of Maines on the mound, Wally Windholm behind the plate and an infield of Lorin Beresnyak at first, Hal Lewis at second, John Giampolo at shortstop and Ed Zajac at third. The picket line figures to be Sonny Thomas, Al Webb and Bill Behle.

Fahey, a school teacher, is available for first base or he can pitch. However, it is expected he will handle the managing chores from the bench. Coaching for the Braves will be John Pullie. He scouts in the New England area for Milwaukee.

The Braves were rained out in Jersey City last week after trailing the home side, 1-0. However, Kingston had two runners on base and nobody out in the fifth when the rains came.

Davi Is Pleased
Fred Davi, operator of the franchise, said he was very pleased with Saturday's performance. He rates the locals definite pennant contenders and is happy about the working agreement with Milwaukee. "This is a good hustling club and one the fans will enjoy watching," Davi said.

The Jets will be making their second league appearance. Last weekend at Poughkeepsie, the Airmen dropped a 14-0 decision. They are not that bad, however, and the contest on Saturday promises to be a good one.

Sunday, the Jets will help the Saugerties Dutchmen inaugurate their season by meeting them in a 2:30 attraction at Cantine field. Saugerties has won three straight non-league starts and figures to be in the league race from the start.

Moose Keglers To Have Banquet

Bowlers who rolled in the Moose Youth League are requested to be at the Moose Home, 82 Prince Street, Saturday at 7 p. m., for the annual banquet. Trophies will be distributed.

MEET THE FLYERS—Here are the Stewart Air Force Base Jets, who will meet the Kingston Braves at Dietz Stadium Saturday night, 8:30 o'clock, in the home opening of the New York-New Jersey Baseball League season. The Jets will play at Saugerties in a Sunday afternoon league game. The players are, left to right,

Podres Pitches Two-Hitter White Sox Stretch AL Lead

Dodgers Beat Phils, 11-0; Braves Get Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

It took Johnny Podres five years and a little more than a month to pitch his first two-hitter in the majors. Now the stocky southpaw has put away two in less than three weeks.

He got the second Thursday night, giving up only a leadoff single by Richie Ashburn and a fourth-inning single by Wally Post while pitching Los Angeles to an 11-0 victory over the Phillies at Philadelphia. That gave the Dodgers full command of third place in the National League.

Podres' 15th shutout in the majors left the Dodgers within two games of second place San Francisco, beaten 12-9 at Pittsburgh. That plunked the Giants two games back of Milwaukee's first place Braves, who won 8-0 at St. Louis behind Bob Buhl's five-hitter.

Newk Hurls Well
Don Newcombe also collected a shutout, giving up nine hits while winning his fifth in a row in an 8-0 Cincinnati victory at Chicago. The loss dropped the Cubs into a fourth place tie with Pittsburgh.

The Dodgers made it a breeze for Podres by rapping five Phil pitchers for 19 hits. Robin Roberts (4-5) was the loser. Podres struck out six and gave up three walks.

Buhl (6-3), coming back after last year's arm trouble won his fourth in a row with his second shutout. The Braves, who had lost two straight, collected five runs on homers by Casey Wise and Del Crandall. Wilmer Mizell (7-3) was the loser.

Pierce Fires One-Hit Victory Over Senators

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Billy Pierce missed that elusive no-hitter he's come so close to nailing again Thursday night, coming off with the fourth one-hitter of his career — tops among active pitchers in the majors.

This one hoisted the Chicago White Sox into a 1½-game lead in the American League with a 3-1 victory over the Washington Senators.

Pierce, whose last one-hitter was a 3-0 decision over the Senators June 27 last year, gave up a third inning double by Ron Samford Thursday night, then pushed the run across with three consecutive walks.

The win added a half-game to Chicago's lead as Cleveland replaced Baltimore in second place by beating the Orioles 2-1. Rocky Colavito, who tied a major league record with four home runs Wednesday night, doubled home the deciding run in the eighth as the Indians won two in a row for the first time in three weeks.

Detroit regained fourth place by belting Boston 8-1 as Kansas City skidded New York to fifth 9-5. The White Sox nicked Camilo Pascual (4-7) for a third-inning run on Jim Landis' single and a double by Nellie Fox. But they couldn't do it again until Landis delivered a two-run, two-out double in the ninth.

Colavito's double, following a walk to Woody Held, broke up a 1-1 duel between southpaw Don Ferrarese of the Indians and Milt Pappas of the Orioles. Both finished with seven-hitters and 5-3 records.

Al Kaline drove in three runs with three hits for the Tigers. He singled home the clincher in a three-run seventh inning against rookie Ted Williams (2-1) and hit his 12th homer in the ninth. Reliever Ray Narleski made his second start and went all the way for a 3-6 record with a five-hitter, giving up Ted Williams' 48th career homer, second this year, in the sixth.

Right-hander Ned Garver (5-4) needed relief in the ninth, but beat the Yankees for the first time since 1955. The A's chased Bob Turley (5-7) in a five-run fifth inning triggered by Kent Hadley's two-run homer.

Garver gave up 11 hits, including home runs by Norm Siebern, Marv Throneberry and Mickey Mantle, while beating the Yankees for the fifth time against 19 defeats.

Blair Bat

NEW YORK (NEA) — Outfielder Fred Marsh of Navy hit 542, the highest average in Eastern Intercollegiate history, to win the Charles H. Blair Bat.

Top Eastern Clubs Split Their Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Williamsport and Allentown neck and neck for the Eastern League lead most of the season, have split a four-game series. The Grays emerged with a skimpy half-game lead, but they aren't likely to forget Bob Tillman for a while.

Tillman's bat accounted for six of the runs in Allentown's 8-6 victory Thursday night. He got two homers, one for two runs and the other for three. Then he singled in the final tally of the game.

Zeke King took care of the rest of the Red Sox scoring with a round-tripper with one aboard. Even so, the winners had to fight off a six-run rally by the Grays in the ninth. Fred Hopke got it started with a solo homer and came round again for a two-run single.

Albany trounced Reading 7-0; York won over Springfield 5-4 in the tenth inning; and Lancaster beat Binghamton 4-1.

Lev Spencer notched his seventh victory in 11 decisions for Albany, giving up only five hits. Bert Barth's two hits brought in four runs.

New Paltz Ties Cortland Players For Team Title

Gordon Krajna, the freshman tennis star at New Paltz State Teachers College, lost the first set and then played brilliant tennis to beat Henry Viex, Cortland, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, in the singles finals of the first annual tournament of the New York State Intercollegiate Conference.

The tourney, held at New Paltz State College, was termed a huge success by Dr. Charles P. Wolbers, host for the event. Teams were entered from State University of New York Teachers Colleges at Albany, Cortland, New Paltz, Oneonta, Plattsburgh and Potsdam.

New Paltz and Cortland tied for first in the team scoring and both schools will receive a trophy for their efforts. The Cortland doubles team of Viex and Larry Siegel won the title with straight set wins over Krajna and Jack Gatzje. The scores were 6-2, 6-1.

Rallies For Win

Krajna, who hails from Buffalo, played the best tennis of his career in beating Viex, the number one Cortland player. He featured a good backhand and a tough defense. After leading, 4-1, in the first set, Krajna was overtaken by Viex and lost the set. However, he never let up in the second and third sets as he swept his way to the title.

In the semi-finals, Krajna beat Siegel, 6-1, 6-1, and Viex won over Fred Miers of Plattsburgh, 6-1, 6-2.

Climax of the two day tournament was the awards banquet Wednesday night. Stan Singer, Poughkeepsie Tennis Club professional and one-time coach of Alex Ormrod, Davis Cup star, was guest speaker. He also made the presentation of awards.

Hogan Shares Open Lead With Finsterwald, Two Other Pros

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — Ben Hogan, a little fellow who carries a lot of weight, took a share of the lead into the second round of the 59th U.S. Open Golf championship today.

But two younger pros who carry little weight—physically or competitively—found themselves in a very enviable position although the 46-year-old Texas precisionist shot a 69 Thursday in his bid for an unprecedented fifth open title.

Dick Knight, 29-year-old, 5-foot-10, 160-pound former driving range operator who plays out of San Diego, Calif., was tied for first with Hogan and two others of golf's best-known stars, Gene Littler and Dow Finsterwald.

Hillman Robbins, a 27-year-old, 5-10, 137-pound freshman pro who was National Amateur champion two years ago, was only a stroke behind.

But so many good players were grouped within a few strokes of these pace-setters that it still could be anybody's tournament.

Here's how it shaped up after the first round:

Tied for first with 69s, one under par for the trap-west, 6,873-yard Winged Foot west course: Hogan, the grim little man who is playing superb golf; Littler, the former amateur titleholder who recovered his playing form this year and has won three tournaments; always-steady Finsterwald the PGA champion; and Knight, who never has won anything more important than the California Open.

Alone at 70: Robbins, who turned professional less than a year ago, hasn't won anything important and is acutely conscious of his shortcomings.

At 71: two-time Open champion Cary Middlecoff, South Africa's Gary Player, runner-up to Tommy Bolt last year; former PGA champion Lionel Hebert, Billy Casper, Don January, Ted Kroil, Arnold Palmer, Don Fairfield, Bo Winger and big Mike Souchak.

At 72: Al Balding of Canada, Bruce Crampton of Australia, Bill Collins, Gene Bone, Doug Ford, Ernie Vossler, home pro Claude Harmon, Henry Ransom, Ewing Pomeroy and National Amateur champion Charlie Coe.

These are the ones who must be considered as the contenders at this stage.

The trailers at 73 include such illustrious players as Sammy Snead and always-dangerous Jay Hebert.

Tommy Bolt, the defending champion, appeared virtually out of it with an opening round of 75. A trio of former champions were worse off — Julius Boros with a 76, Dick Mayer with 77 and Ed Furgol with 83.

Monticello Raceway Ready For Opening Next Thursday

Monticello Raceway, New York State's newest harness plant, ushers in its second season Thursday night, June 18.

Featured opening night is the $5,000 Inaugural Pace, one of eight major early-closing events during the 75 night campaign that concludes September 12.

Thirteen are listed for the Inaugural, including Billy Haggard's Scotch Tape, a trio usually handled by Stanley Dancer — Pat Rainbow, Easy Adios and Flying Pence — and a hometown favorite, Lucky Eden.

John Bedell will drive Lucky, owned by Peter and Walter Rhulien and Morris Turetzky of Monticello. He has shown sharp form in winning this Spring at Yonkers in both A and double A competition.

Stiff competition will be furnished by Harold Dancer Jr., up on Mocking Bird, John Simpson's Noble Adios, Frisky Thomas, Lady Symbol and Don's Pride. Two pacers hearing close watching are from Western New York, Levi Harner's Napoleon Haver and Bud Gilmour's Howard Rosecroft.

Track president, Franklin E. Devlin, pointed out that the initial season had "many encouraging aspects." The Sullivan County track had an average attendance of 4,442 nightly last year and fully expects to exceed that mark.

Monticello fans will find many innovations, including faster payoffs. Windows will open three to five minutes faster this year with cashiers receiving the payoff figures by an electronic device instead of foot messengers.

A new odds board has been installed in the main betting ring under the grandstand. Patrons in line to wager can observe the changing odds by merely glancing up to their right.

Eight races are carded nightly, with the first one off at 9 p. m.

For the opening of the half mile oval, commended by horsemen during last summer's meet, has been brought to peak racing form; the steel stands have been spruced up with cheerful coats of new paint and a major landscaping program undertaken.

Other tonight early closing races include the Monticello Trot July 4th and the Pace, Monticello Leg, August 22. Shadow Wave is an HTA 22 entry with 36 other hopefuls.

Heavy Hitting Featured in Rec Softball League

Runs and hits were the rule rather than the exception last night in the Rec Softball League. Lincoln Park Inn won a 17-7 game from Chappie's Taxi, Gallo Cities Service was a 17-13 winner over Sickle's 35 Club and Hilltop Rest won, 22-1, over Dew Drop Inn.

Ken Boughton slapped a home run to spark the Lincoln Park comeback. The team trailed, 5-3, going into the fourth. Then it scored three in that frame, four in the fifth, two in the sixth and five in the seventh.

Bob Perry, Joe Amato, Ed Van Loan and Bill Cragan hit the long ball in the Gallo's-Sickle's battle. A six run second inning by the winners proved to be the difference in the contest. Bob Lasher won it all, though he was touched for 15 hits. Frank Tobasco gave up only five hits, two in the first inning, as Hilltop Rest won as it pleased against Dew Drop Inn. A ten run second inning put the game out of reach.
